TULIPS

Darwin, Breeder, and Mayflowering Tulips are the classes suited to Southern California. The distinction between the three classes is mostly a matter of typical colorings, and in the Mayflowering, the shape of the flower. There is little difference in blooming period, Mayflowering Tulips possibly beginning to flower a few days later than the others. Planting and culture is identical so that varieties may be practically chosen for color preference, disregarding the class to which they belong. B. indicates Breeder; D. Darwin; M. Mayflowering.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS:

We are enclosing a brief descriptive price list of bulbs for fall planting. These bulbs are of our usual excellent quality, large, solid, full of blossom buds and vigor.

As you undoubtedly are aware, we have been closing out our stock of fine trees, shrubs and plants from our "Flowerland" and Chatsworth nurseries at very low prices. All of these sale items are of our finest quality - we have not added cheap lots of merchandise just to gain more revenue from this sale, but have adhered rigidly to our purpose of closing out our stock - every plant we offer in this sale has been grown in our own nurseries.

Unavoidably, our plans for development of our La Brea Avenue property have been temporarily postponed. Although we are continuing the sale of our Chatsworth and "Flowerland" nursery stock, we are equipped to serve our customers with fresh choice bulbs, bedding plants, seeds, fertilizers, insecticides, etc., - all of customary Paul J. Howard quality, offered at our popular market prices, and will continue to supply timely and staple items at this address, and will later have an announcement of our future horticultural activities. Our customers tell us this is good news, and we appreciate your continued patronage.
